PROPOSED RULES

on self-employment income with respect to service performed for the executive branch of the Federal Government, he must file an application for exemption on or before the due date of his income tax return for 1969, or any extension thereof.

Example (3). M, who makes his income tax returns on a calendar year basis, was ordained as a minister in January 1966. M has net earnings of $350 for the taxable year 1966 and has earnings in excess of $400 for each of his taxable years 1967 and 1968 (some part or all of which is derived from service performed in the exercise of his ministry). M has not filed an effective waiver certificate on Form 2031 (see paragraph (a) (3) of 1.11402(e)-2A). If M desires an exemption from the tax on self-employment income with respect to service performed in the exercise of his ministry, he must file an application for exemption on or before the due date of his income tax return for 1969 (his second taxable year ending after 1967), or any extension thereof.

Example (4). Assume the same facts as in example (2) except that M has net earnings in excess of $400 for each of his taxable years 1967 and 1968 (but less than $400 in 1969). The application must be filed on or before the due date of his income tax return for 1969, or any extension thereof.

Example (5). M, who was ordained as a minister in May 1973. During each of the taxable years 1973 and 1974, M, who makes his income tax returns on a calendar year basis, derives net earnings in excess of $400 from his activities as a minister. M has net earnings of $350 for the taxable year 1974, $200 of which is derived from service performed in the exercise of his ministry. If M desires an exemption from the tax on self-employment income with respect to service performed in the exercise of his ministry, he must file an application for exemption on or before the due date of his income tax return for 1975, or any extension thereof.

Example (6). M, who was ordained as a minister in January 1973, is employed as a bookkeeper by the XYZ Corporation for the taxable years 1973 and 1974 and also engages in activities as a minister on weekends. M makes his income tax returns on the basis of a calendar year. During each of the taxable years 1973 and 1974, M receives wages of $14,000 from the Corporation and derives net earnings of $400 from his activities as a minister. If M desires an exemption from the tax on self-employment income with respect to service performed in the exercise of his ministry, he must file an application for exemption on or before the due date of his income tax return for 1974, or any extension thereof. It should be noted that although section 1402 (b) (1) (G) and (H) of the $400 represents "self-employment income", nevertheless the entire $400 constitutes "net earnings from self-employment" for purposes of fulfilling the requirements of section 1402 (e) (2).

Example (7). M, who files his income tax returns on a calendar year basis, was ordained as a minister in March 1973. During 1973 he received $400 as a per diem from the church for services performed in the exercise of his ministry. In addition to his ministerial services, M is engaged during the year 1973 in a mercantile venture from which he derives net earnings from self-employment in the amount of $4,000. The expenses incurred in connection with the mercantile venture are allowable deductions under section 1 of the Internal Revenue Code. During 1973 and 1974, M has net earnings from self-employment in amounts of $4,600 and $4,800, respectively, and some part of each of these amounts is from the exercise of his calling. M is allowed in each of the years 1974 and 1976 by chapter 1 which are attributable to the gross income from service performed in the exercise of his ministry in each of such years, respectively, do not equal or exceed such gross income in such years. Therefore, the exemption from the tax on self-employment income with respect to service performed in the exercise of his ministry, he must file an application for exemption on or before the due date of his income tax return for 1976, or any extension thereof.

(b) Effect of death—The right of an individual to file an application for exemption shall cease upon his death. Thus, the surviving spouse, administrator, or executor of a decedent shall not be permitted to file an application for exemption for such decedent.

(c) Computation of net earnings—(1) Taxable years ending before 1968—For purposes of this section net earnings from self-employment for taxable years ending before 1968 shall be determined without regard to the fact that, without an election under section 1402(e) (as in effect prior to amendment by section 115 of the Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act of 1981 (PL 97-35)), the income of the decedent from his activities as a minister in the taxable years after his death shall be includible in the gross income of his estate for purposes of determining the applicable exclusion specified in paragraphs (a) (3) (I) and (B) of § 1.11402(e)-8 relating to Christian Science practitioners.

§ 1.11402(e)-4A Period for which exemption is effective.

(a) In general. If an application for exemption on Form 4301—

(1) Is filed by a minister, a member of a religious order, or a Christian Science practitioner eligible to file such an application (see particularly paragraph (a) (2) and (3) of § 1.11402(e)-2A), and

(2) Is approved (see paragraph (c) of § 1.11402(e)-2A), the exemption from the tax on self-employment income shall be effective for the taxable year ending after 1967 for which such minister, member, or practitioner has net earnings from self-employment of $400 or more any part of which was derived from the performance of service in his capacity as a minister, member, or practitioner, and for all succeeding taxable years. See, however, paragraphs (b) (1) (II) and (B) (3) of § 1.11402(e)-5 relating to ministers and members of religious orders and paragraphs (b) (2) of § 1.11402(e)-5 relating to Christian Science practitioners.

(d) Exemption irrevocable. An exemption granted to a minister, a member of a religious order, or a Christian Science practitioner pursuant to the provisions of section 1402 (e) is irrevocable.

Due to a delay in publication of the notice, less than 30 days was provided during which interested persons could submit comments. In order to provide for this situation, the Director hereby extends the time for filing comments to July 3, 1973. All comments, objections, or requests for hearings must be received no later than July 3, 1973. In the event a hearing is held, the date of the hearing will be July 24, 1973, at 10 a.m., in Room 1210, 1405 Eye Street, NW., Washington, D.C. 20507.
